WILL ENLARGE CUTSHAW LINES

Committee to Begin the Task of Annexation Wednesday.

WILL DOUBLE SIZE OF PRESENT CITY

The Citizens and the Council Seem Favorable to Greater Richmond—Will Begin With the East End. A Great Undertaking.

The question of enlarging the present boundaries of the city is the latest now engaging the attention of the Council, and it looks as if it will come to a speedy tangible head, with the result of taking in a large area of outlying territory on the eastern, northern and western suburbs of the city.

The map herewith printed shows the lines drawn by Colonel W. E. Cutshaw, city engineer, at the request of the Committee on Charter, Ordinances and Reform, but this is, as stated by the engineer before the committee the other night, only a tentative plan, and will no doubt be greatly enlarged upon by the committee when the body comes to deal finally with the proposition.

It is believed that the taking in of a large area of new territory is now a practical certainty, and the Committee on Charter, Ordinances and Reform are pressing the matter with all reasonable speed.

The last annexation was in 1892, when the Lee District, embracing about three hundred acres, was taken in. Now it is proposed, even should the lines drawn by Colonel Cutshaw be observed, which is altogether unlikely, to practically double the area of the city. At present it embraces about 3,300 acres, and the additional territory marked out on Colonel Cutshaw's map would make at least 3,300 acres more.

While it is hard to say how many additional inhabitants would be thus brought in, it is estimated that it would be in the neighborhood of 15,000, giving the city, in round numbers, 100,000 population.

But these lines will be exceeded in all human probability, and Barton Heights and Chestnut Hill, and other additional territory, will be included.

Begin Wednesday.

The committee will begin active work on Wednesday at 2:30 P. M., when the members will visit the territory east of Seventeenth Street, including the town of Fairmount.

So far as the expense to the city is concerned, the cost of annexation would lie mainly in acquiring rights of way where the county intervenes between the city and points sought to be annexed. No such difficulty would probably obtain in the east and west ends of the city, but it is understood, for instance, that neither Barton Heights nor Fairmount connect directly with the city.

There is an unmistakable public clamor for annexation, both in and out of the city, and this demand will surely be met in a short while by a considerable extension of the present lines.

Colonel Cutshaw is favorable to annexation, but, faithful to his past record, he desires to proceed in such a manner as to protect the city and not to have to make enormous outlays for watersheds, viaducts and the streeting of streets.

The business people of the city, as well as the citizens of the various outlying districts, seem highly pleased with the prospects for the early passage of a liberal annexation ordinance.

FOUGHT DUEL; ONE DEAD, ANOTHER DYING

Man Caught Assailant by the Hair and Cut His Throat.

(By Associated Press.)

MACON, GA., November 12.—Fred Tharpe, a contractor, is dead, and Frank Christian, contractor and painter, is dying in a hospital as a result of a fierce duel with knives this afternoon in a Mulberry Street saloon. Tharpe's daughter married Rafe Plunkett, who was a stepson of Christian, and also his partner in business. Some time ago Rafe Plunkett accidentally shot and killed himself.

Since his death there had been some discussion between Tharpe and Christian as to the manner in which he was shot, and also on account of some family troubles. The dispute this afternoon was because of these matters. Tharpe drew a knife and cut Christian across the stomach, whereupon the latter brought his own knife into play, caught his assailant by the hair, and cut his throat. Tharpe died almost immediately, and Christian cannot live.

MEMORIAL TO VIRGINIA AND CAROLINA CAVALRY

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

GREENSBORO, N. C., November 12.—A beautiful granite memorial to Colonel William Washington and the Marquis of Brevigny, and their Virginia and North Carolina cavalry is about completed, and ready for shipment to Guilford battle ground. It will be erected east of Spring Vale on the top of the steep hill, where these cavaliers made their fierce and successful charge through the ranks of the Highlanders, whose accomplished leader, Colonel Stewart, was killed in the melee.

ALL ARE ALIVE AFTER THREE FRENCH DUELS

Trouble Emphasizes Bitterness Between Army and Parliamentary Circles.

PARIS, November 12.—Two duels, growing out of the assault on War Minister Andre by Deputy Gabriel Syveton in the Chamber of Deputies, November 4th, were fought to-day.

Lieutenant Andre, a son of the minister, met Count De La Rocheville, a deputy. Swords were used. Lieutenant Andre was slightly wounded.

Elsewhere in the suburbs M. Syveton fought Captain Gall, representing General Andre. Two shots with pistols were exchanged, but neither of the combatants was injured.

Both encounters took place on army reservations. The Andre-De La Rocheville duel was fought on the artillery field at Vincennes, and the encounter between M. Syveton and Captain Gall occurred on the parade ground at St. Germain.

The Marquis De Dion directed the Syveton-Gall contest. The duellists left the field unreconciled. General and Mme. Andre while the duel was in progress, waited for their son at the Vincennes Port.

Lieutenant Andre's wound was half an inch deep and on his right hand. He lost considerable blood. A third duel was fought during the day, in the Parc Des Princes, between the Marquis D'Assiet and the Marquis De Pourqueres. Pistols at twenty-five paces were used. Neither of the duellists was hit.

TWENTY TONS OF CARP FOOD FOR THE GHETTO

CHICAGO, November 12.—In two days' fishing, nearly twenty tons of German carp have been taken with seines from the Fox River. The work was done under the supervision of the State fish warden and is still in progress.

The carp are loaded into specially prepared chests filled with water, and in their live state transported to Chicago. They are sold alive to the residents of the Ghetto. The war on the German carp is due to that fish's depredation upon the eggs of game fish.

TRAINS CRASH AND EIGHT ARE KILLED

Wreck Result of Telegraph Operator's Error in a Train Order.

SALT LAKE, UTAH, Nov. 12.—Eight persons were killed and five injured, two seriously, in a head-on collision shortly after midnight between Union Pacific westbound passenger train No. 3 and an eastbound extra freight train, a short distance west of Azusa, Wyo. The dead: ENGINEER WILLIAM MURRAY, ENGINEER B. S. ECKLES, MAIL CLERK H. M. SHERMAN, CAR INSPECTOR SAMUEL EFFERSON, FIREMAN WILLIAM COMSTOCK.

Two unknown passengers in day coach. John B. Winslow, of Evanston, Pacific Express messenger, was fatally injured. Frank Nolan, of Cheyenne, mail clerk, was badly injured and may not recover.

Three passengers in the day coach were injured, but not seriously. The track between Granger and Green River, Wyo., is part of the Union Pacific, but is operated by the Oregon Short Line. The wreck, it is said, was the result of an error in a train order by a telegraph operator. The freight train was given thirty minutes to make Azusa and meet the westbound passenger, but the order delivered to the freight crew read "fifty minutes," and the trains came together at great speed. Both engines were demolished, the mail and baggage cars telescoped, and the day coach badly damaged, going in the ditch. The Pullmans did not leave the track. The track was blocked for several hours.

EXPRESS SIDE-WIPED; FIVE ARE INJURED

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 12.—The westbound St. Louis express, while pulling into a siding near Boyds, Md., on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, was side-wiped by the eastbound Pittsburgh limited at 1:20 o'clock this morning, and five passengers were injured.

Only the rear car, a Pullman coach, was struck. A relief train was hurried from this city with doctors and railroad officials aboard, but the eastbound train had already resumed its journey to this city, and the relief train met it at Gaithersburg, twenty-five miles west of here.

The injured: G. Conrad, Pullman conductor, scalp wounds, taken to a hospital here; Mr. and Mrs. Palmer, St. Louis, slight injuries; Joyce, foot brained.

RIVAL TEAMS IN BATTLE ROYAL

Ashland Defeats Richmond College in Clean, Fast Contest.

SCORE WAS NOT A SURPRISE

Some of Richmond College's Best Men Were Out of the Game.

The annual foot-ball game between the eleven of Richmond College and Randolph-Macon College, played at Broad Street Park yesterday afternoon, proved the battle royal it was expected to develop, and resulted in a victory for the Ashlanders by a score of 16 to 5. The betting was rather in favor of the Randolph-Macon team, owing to the absence of several of the best Richmond College men from the line, owing to injuries. In fact, the home team was far from being at its best, and the team rather expected defeat, but hoped to hold the visitors to two touchdowns.

The Randolph-Macon boys were slow getting into the game, and fumbled badly at the first, enabling Richmond to make the first score after but a few minutes' play. The Ashland Yellow Jackets then settled down to fast, steady foot-ball, and before the half ended they had rushed the ball over the line and tied the score. The attempt at goal was a very poor one, and, in fact, so was Richmond's, though the Ashland team had a better chance. In the second half the Yellow Jackets got into the game from the start, and by fast work and brilliant team play managed to score twice, but one goal being kicked. It was almost too dark to see the goal posts when the ball was between them, and the game ended immediately.

Game in Detail.

It was 3:47 when the Richmond full-back kicked off to Walters on his twenty yard line. He promptly fumbled the punt, and it was Richmond's ball on the yellow twenty-five yard line. The game was on, and Richmond tried the yellow line. Hudgins got three yards, but lost it on a penalty of five yards for offside play. With eight yards to go, Richmond punted to the ten yard line, and another Randolph-Macon fumble ensued, with the result that Richmond fell on the ball. After two downs and but three yards gain, Mench dropped back and tried for a field goal, but failed on an easy chance.

Randolph-Macon brought the ball out and punted to Hudgins on Richmond's fifty yard line, and he was thrown after five yards run. Falling to gain, Mench punted on the third down to Randolph-Macon's thirty yard line, and Thraves threw the runner before he had run the ball back three yards. After falling to gain against the Richmond line, Randolph-Macon punted to the Richmond forty-five yard line, and the ball was returned five yards. Frazer then hit the line for eight yards, and on the next try for four more. The next scrimmage yielded no gain, and Mench again punted to Randolph on his thirty yard line, and he was thrown by Elmore at the thirty-seven yard line. Richmond was penalized twenty yards, and it was their ball on their fifty yard line. Frazer plunged for four yards, and Mench punted to Leavell, who fumbled, and a red leg fell on the ball on the yellow twenty-five yard line. After one small line gain, Frazer

MIDDIES WIN BY A SMALL SCORE

Virginia Puts Up Great Game and Gives Navy Team a Hard Struggle.

THE SCORE FIVE TO NOTHING

Fine Punting of Council One of the Features of the Game.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

ANNAPOLIS, MD., November 12.—The Navy defeated the foot-ball team of the University of Virginia here this afternoon by a score of 5 to 0, and although it undoubtedly deserved the game by that narrow margin, there was only a shade's difference in the playing of the two teams. The game was a most interesting one, and abounded in kicking, in which Captain Council, of Virginia, always got the better of the exchange.

The Navy scored in the first ten minutes of the game, Smith going over the line at the extreme edge of the field, and Norton missed a difficult goal. The time of the half was called with the Virginia holding the ball on the Navy's fifteen yard line and looking like they would score.

In the second half, the punting of Captain Council and the stiffer defense put up by his men gave the visitors the better of it at times. Both Virginia and the Navy landed the ball behind their opponent's goal after long runs, but the runner was brought back much to the dissatisfaction of the respective rooters. Half-back Johnson carried the ball in the case of the Virginians for seventy yards from the regular formation, but it was decided that he ran outside. For the Navy, Captain Farley got the ball after Pollard's fumble, and ran forty yards behind the goal. Interference with a free catch was adjudged, however, and the ball brought back and awarded to Virginia.

Virginia much surprised the local players by the game it put up, and the Navy was particularly notable. The Navy's game was fairly satisfactory, being steady, rather than brilliant, the backs working well together and right-half Doherty doing splendid work.

The line-up was:

Navy.	Position.	U. of V.
McClint	center	McClint
Woodruff	right guard	Murphy
Farley	(captain), right tackle	Council
(Piersol)	(captain)	(Piersol)
Whiting	right-end	Grisham
		(Dodson)
Norton	quarter	Paul
Doherty	right half	Yancey
Smith	full-back	Paul

Summary: Score—Navy, 5; Virginia, 0. Touchdown—Smith, Umpley—Mr. Thompson, of Georgetown, Referee—Mr. Sharpe, of Yale. Timekeepers—Mr. Melvin, of St. John's; Dr. Bogart, Navy. Time of halves—twenty and twenty-five minutes.

PRINCETON, N. J., November 12.—Everything is blue in old Nassau to-night. Yale to-day administered the second defeat of the season to the Orange and Black by the score of 12 to 0.

Princeton will forever blame the elements for to-day's defeat. The intermittent downpours of Friday had made the ground soft and slimy, and the Orange and Black were the chief sufferers. Their backs reputed to be the fastest in the country, could gain no headway on the slippery field, and their forwards much lighter than Yale's were unable to brace themselves for the fierce attack of the New Haven boys.

No Spectacular Plays.

It would be an injustice to Yale to attempt to detract from her glorious victory, but there was surely an element of luck in both touchdowns. On the first score, Princeton's over anxiety was her undoing. Three times early in the opening half, were the representatives of old Nassau for off-side, and once for holding a distance of thirty yards, a great advantage for a fierce line bucking aggression, like the Yale eleven. In the same half Yale suffered only once for a penalty, and at the time the ball was so far in Princeton's territory that the five yards availed practically nothing.

The game was absolutely devoid of spectacular plays. Yale's eleven is not constructed on the spectacular line, and the soggy field militated against Princeton's reputed brilliant back field. Yale used straight plays, aimed at center or tackle, and only twice did she essay a quarter-back run. The first attempt was a dismal failure, but on the second try Rockwell got away for a pretty twenty-yard run. Time and again Tenney gave his own signal for a quarterback run, but he ran so much faster than the interference, and the Yale second defense was so unusually alert, that he found a tackler awaiting him at the end of the line. Each man on the Princeton eleven endeavored to do his play, but Princeton's gains and her defense were due in a great measure to the individual playing of three men—Conney, Poulke and Miller. The former was used as a battering ram on the Yale line, and seldom failed to gain his distance, and the two latter as the second line of defense were brilliant. Hogan, Bloomer, Leavenworth and Owens were used to rip up Princeton's line, and were universally successful. Shelvin, who it was said, could not possibly last through a grueling contest, showed no signs of fatigue.

Weaknesses of Yale.

While Yale outplayed Princeton in the opening half, the latter clearly had their opponent on the defensive in the closing half. During the last thirty-five minutes of play the ball was almost continuously in Yale's territory, except when Hoyt would kick. There was one noticeably weak point in Yale's play, and this was her tackling in the open. Time and again her ends would miss Tenney, and on two different occasions he eluded three Yale men, only to fall on the treacherous turf
